BLAZER FITTING TIPS

How a blazer should fit and look when worn.

COLLAR

The blazer's collar should reveal about ½" of dress shirt collar.

SLEEVES

With the arm extended, blazer sleeves should hit at the point where the thumb joins the wrist. Shirt sleeves should end ½" to 1" past the blazer sleeves. If more of the shirt sleeve is visible, either the blazer sleeves are too short or the shirt sleeves too long.

LENGTH

The blazer's length should cover the backside. With arms at the sides, the coat's bottom should be level with the knuckles.

BACK

The back of the blazer should be flat, without wrinkles. If you see horizontal wrinkles, the blazer is too small and the customer should try the next size up. If the wrinkles are vertical, the coat is too big.

FRONT CLOSURE

The front of the blazer should close without pulling or wrinkling.

SHOULDER

The shoulder should lie smoothly, neither baggy (too big) or wrinkled (too small).
